

The Power of Passion™

The Secret to work that serves You.

Yes! It is possible for people to be passionate about their work! Discover the secrets to creating a work experience that serves you, while you serve others. Master storyteller, successful businessman, and accomplished athlete, Hugh Culver will ignite the energy at your event with his trademark presentation - The Power of Passion™.

This dynamic keynote features full multimedia visuals and movies from his extraordinary Antarctica expeditions. And it shows new insights into the ever-increasing challenges of work and life-balance. Your audience will laugh at Hugh's stories, be inspired by the three power-secrets, and gain new insights for returning to work.

Hugh's story is about overcoming incredible odds to create the first tourist program at the South Pole - an international success story. But more importantly, it is about the courage to lead our life with Purpose, Vision, and with Heart. Audiences continually rave about the impact of The Power of Passion™ - discover why!

Hugh Culver is an author, master trainer, athlete, professional facilitator and speaker. For the past 14 years Hugh has been leading training programs and corporate retreats that foster human development in the workplace.
